The following letter from the Accountant-General, Madras, No. Fds. 9-10-32-33/1254, dated 6th March 1933, is published :—

[Subject.—Preparation of General Provident Fund Schedules to be attached to pay bills for March 1933 payable on 1st April 1933.]

In connexion with the above, I have the honour to bring to your notice that many instances were noticed in 1932-33 where the names of subscribers who had temporarily suspended payment of subscriptions to General Provident Fund were omitted to be shown in the schedules attached to pay bills with the result that much difficulty was experienced by this office towards the close of the year in the despatch of the accounts relating to these subscribers who have discontinued their subscriptions. Special attention is therefore invited to the first paragraph of the "Instructions for the preparation of Fund Schedules" appended to this Office Circular letter to all Heads of Offices, No. Fds. 22-1-30-31/1461, dated the 7th January 1931, impressing on them the necessity for maintaining the schedules in a complete form and it is requested that steps may kindly be taken to ensure that the schedules exhibit, in the order of serial account numbers, the names of all subscribers to the General Provident Fund in your office on 31st March 1933 including those who have suspended payment of subscriptions either temporarily or finally for some reason or other or on account of the operation of Rule 5 of the General Provident Fund Rules. Further, the reason for non-recovery may also be briefly stated, as required by paragraph 3 of the instructions referred to above, against the names of subscribers from whom no recovery is made in a particular month's pay bill.

PRESS COMMUNIQUÉ.

Fort St. George, March 8, 1933
(G.O. No. 384 I).

No. 80.—The Hon'ble the Revenue Member and the Chief Engineer for Irrigation, Government of Madras visited Hyderabad recently for the purpose of conferring with the Hyderabad Government and their Chief Engineer and examining the feasibility of preparing a Joint Scheme for the utilization of the Tungabhadra waters.

At the two preliminary discussions which the Chief Engineers of the two Governments, with the assistance of other officers had on the 6th and 7th February 1933, it was agreed that the Project presented no Engineering difficulties. A number of technical points connected with the preparation of the Joint Scheme, were then gone into in detail.

The Hon'ble the Revenue Member and the Chief Engineer, Madras, then met certain representatives of the Hyderabad Government and their Chief Engineer at a Conference on the 10th February over which the Hon'ble the Resident presided. The subject was fully discussed with special reference to the results of the discussions on technical matters that had already taken place between the two Chief Engineers. Without committing either Government in any way whatever, tentative conclusions on a number of points were arrived at. The Reservoir would be built on the Malappuram site originally selected by Mr. Mackenzie and approved of by Sir John Benton. The land required for the Reservoir on either side of the river would be acquired by the Governments concerned, and the cost together with the cost of the dam and subsidiary works including Head Regulators, would be shared equally by the two Governments. The capacity of the Reservoir was tentatively fixed, and it was agreed that each Government would be at liberty to draw off from the Reservoir, water for irrigation in its area up to a certain maximum, but the question what provision should be made for existing irrigation from the Tungabhadra below the site of the dam and the relation of such provision to the share of either Government was left over for further consideration. The maximum would be fixed separately for the three well marked seasons in the year, viz., July to October season (floods), November to February (rain), and March to June (hot weather). The main canal and distribution system and the cost of land for excavation of canals and other subsidiary works within the jurisdiction of each Government would be borne by that Government.

It is estimated that under these tentative proposals water can be made available in British territory for the irrigation of dry crops on over a million acres, and the area will be reduced if water is supplied for the irrigation of wet or garden crops on any portion of the ayacut.

It was estimated on either side that it would take about six months to get ready estimates of the cost of the project as now recast and to complete the examination of the scheme in its revenue aspect. A further conference will be arranged when the estimates of cost and revenue are ready.

It must be clearly understood that neither Government are yet in any way committed to the scheme.
